London, October 10.—The British war office announced that Antwerp was evacuated by the Belgians yesterday. The official announcement of the fall of Antwerp, given out at German general headquarters late last night and transmitted here via Marconi wireless, says:

"This afternoon several of the inner line of the fortifications of Antwerp have fallen. The town, since midday, has been in our possession. The commander and the garrison evacuated the fortifications. Only a few forts are still occupied by the enemy and this is without influence on our position in Antwerp."

Antwerp is 180 miles from London and in England the fear has been expressed that this city as a German base Zeppelin airships could be used to attack the English coast line and even London. The distance from Antwerp to the English coast is less than 100 miles.

Antwerp has fallen into the hands of the Germans, with the exception of a few outlying forts which cannot affect the outstanding facts, but its capture, important and stirring as it has been, was robbed of much of its intrinsic value, it is contended here, by the escape of the garrison. The defenders, it appears, held on long enough to enable them to take full stock of the situation and evacuated the citadel when it became evident that the doom of the town was sealed. Toward the close of the defense only a sufficient garrison to work the remaining available guns was left to hold Antwerp. The forts around Contich, six miles southwest of Antwerp, are said to be still intact, and the duel between them and the German artillery is reported as still proceeding Saturday morning.

The strategic importance of Antwerp to the Germans arose largely from the fact of its menace to their lines of communication. With the Belgian army withdrawn to a position half way between Antwerp and Ostend, the pressure on these lines will be removed, at least temporarily. But at the same time there would appear to be little obstacle to the Belgians effecting a junction with the allies working to the northward in west Flanders.

It is assumed in London that if Germany considers it convenient to her plan of campaign she will not hesitate to utilize the neutral waters of the Scheldt; but except as an airship and possibly a submarine base, it is contended that she can derive no advantage from this waterway.

The battle line in France is now so long—forming as it does a rough curve of 350 miles from Lorraine to the Aisne and the operations before Antwerp had become so closely knit as to be, from the military point of view, inseparable. The hope of the allies to deliver a crushing blow against the German army in France before the occupation of Antwerp by the enemy is now, of course, a thing of the past. The German right wing, under General von Kluck, apparently is still intact. The opinion was generally expressed that should the allies later attack Antwerp there would be a repetition of what already has taken place; that is to say, the German garrison could not hold out against them.

Dispatches attempting to analyze the German plan of campaign, with Antwerp in their hands, declare that the German purpose is to sweep over northern France with the object of taking possession of the channel ports and thus bring the warfare nearer England. The German forces which have taken Antwerp are said to consist of five army corps under command of General von Beseler. General De Guise was in command of the Belgian forces.

Paris, October 10.—The following official announcement was given out in Paris this afternoon:

"The fighting continues under satisfactory conditions. Our entire battle front has been maintained in spite of violent attacks of the enemy at several points. On our left wing, in the region included between La Bassée, Armentières and Cassel, there has been fighting between the opposing forces of cavalry.

"To the north of the Oise our troops have attained real advantages. In the region of St. Mihiel we have made material progress. As to Belgium, it is announced that Antwerp was taken yesterday. In Russia very spirited fighting continues on the frontier of East Prussia where Russian troops have had partial successes. They have occupied the town of Lyck in East Prussia. The siege of Przemyśl continues under conditions favorable for the Russians, who have taken by assault one of the forts of the main line of defense."

The Hague, via London, October 10.—Antwerp surrendered to the Germans at 2:30 p. m. Friday, October 9. The war flag was removed from the cathedral and a white flag raised in its place at 9 a. m. The actual surrender took place five and one-half hours later. It is declared there that the cathedral of Notre Dame has not been damaged.

The Germans delivered one of the last furious attacks between 6 and 7 o'clock Friday morning. The Belgians resisted them valiantly in their trenches and the desperate fighting resulted in very heavy losses on both sides.

During all Thursday night Zeppelin airships directed the firing of the German heavy artillery, the results of which were appalling. The German artillery forced its way across the river Nethe, on which many of the artillerymen were drowned. The fighting has been indescribably sanguinary. The Belgians succeeded in blowing up two, and possibly more, of their enemy's batteries and heavy artillery.

BATTERIES—Braves; James, Gowdy. Athletics; Plank; Schang.

By Associated Press.

Philadelphia, October 10.—The weather Saturday morning was very cloudy and damp with indications that light rain might fall during the second world's series baseball game in the afternoon, between the Boston Nationals and Philadelphia Athletics. About 10 o'clock the sun came out, to the great joy of the fans. The general opinion here was that Manager Stallings would send Tyler, the Boston southpaw, to the mound, while it was believed that Connie Mack's choice would be Eddie Plank.

The Bostonians went into the game with added confidence and a grim determination to make it two straight. Manager Stallings announced a change in his lineup, putting several hitters who are more effective against left handed pitchers, after Mack has slated Plank for the pitching job.

Betting odds which, before yesterday's game, were 2 to 1 and 8 to 5 that the Athletics would win the series, today changed to 10 to 8 that the Athletics would take the championship.

Following are line-ups, batteries and umpires:

Philadelphia—Murphy, rf; Oldring, lf; Collins, 2b; Baker, 3b; McInnis, 1b; Strunk, cf; Barry, ss; Schang, c; Plank, p.

Boston—Mann, rf; Evers, 2b; Cather, lf; Whitted, cf; Schmidt, 1b; Gowdy, c; Maranville, ss; Deal, 3b; James, p.

Batteries—Plank and Schang; James and Gowdy.

Umpires—Hildebrand behind the plate; Byron on bases; Klem in left field; Dineen in right field.

Shibe Park, Philadelphia, October 10.—The Boston National League champions won the second game of the world's series today by beating the Philadelphia Athletics 1 to 0. It was a gruelling fight to the finish and Boston did not put its run over until the ninth inning. A double by Deal, substituting for Smith at third, followed by his steal of third and Mann's single brought in Boston's run. The Athletics threatened in the ninth inning having a man on first and second with only one out, but a sharp double play engineered by Maranville ended the Athletics' chances.

James' pitching was simply baffling the Philadelphia club being helpless before his speed and fast breaking spitter. Both clubs fielded brilliantly, Maranville and Barry's play being especially brilliant.

After the game the Boston rooters, led by President Gaffney of the Boston club, Captain Johnny Evers and Former Mayor Fitzgerald, of Boston, paraded around the field while the band played the Boston battle song, "Tessie". The two clubs leave for Boston tonight. The world series now stands, Boston Nationals 2; Philadelphia Athletics 0.

FIRST INNING

Mann out, Collins to McInnis. Collins made a fast play on the runner. Evers scratched an infield single. Cather fanned. Whitted walked. Schmidt flied out to Strunk. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Murphy walked. Murphy was out when James threw wildly to Schmidt, who quickly recovered the ball and threw to Maranville, who touched out Murphy. Oldring out. Deal to Schmidt. Deal also threw out Collins. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SECOND INNING

Gowdy walked. Maranville sacrificed, Baker to McInnis. Plank took Deal's smash and tossed to Baker, who threw to Collins, who touched Gowdy as he tried to slide back to second. Deal stole second. James fanned. No runs, no hits, no errors. Baker fouled out to Schmidt. McInnis fanned. Strunk also fanned. No hits, no runs, no errors.

THIRD INNING

Barry threw out Mann. Evers singled to center. Cather out on a fly to Baker. Evers out stealing. Schang to Collins. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Barry flied out to Cather. Schang also flied out to Cather. Plank struck out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

FOURTH INNING

Whitted flied out to Strunk. Schmidt singled. Gowdy flied out to Murphy. Maranville singled. Schmidt going to second. Barry stabbed Deals boulder, touched second, forcing Maranville. No runs, two hits, no errors.

James threw out Murphy. Oldring struck out. Maranville threw out Collins. No runs, no hits, no errors.

James had not allowed a hit so far and had sent the Athletic batters back to the bench in one, two, three order.

FIFTH INNING

James struck out. Mann singled. Evers flied to Strunk. Barry took Cather's grounder and tossed to Collins, forcing Mann. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Baker flew out to Whitted. McInnis fanned. Strunk struck out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SIXTH INNING

Whitted popped out to Collins. Schmidt flied to Murphy. Gowdy walked. Maranville was hit with a pitched ball. Baker took Deal's roller and touched third, forcing Gowdy. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Maranville threw out Barry. Schang doubled to left. It was the Athletics first hit. Schang out when the ball got away from Gowdy, who quickly got the ball and threw the Athletics' catcher out at third. Maranville tossed out Plank. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING

James struck out for the third time. Mann struck out, Schang to McInnis. Baker threw out Evers. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Murphy fanned. Evers tossed out Oldring. Collins beat out an infield hit. Collins was picked off first. James to Schmidt. No runs, one hit, no errors.

EIGHTH INNING

Barry threw out Cather. Whitted safe when McInnis dropped Barry's perfect throw. Whitted was forced at second. Collins taking Schmidt's grounder and tossing to Barry. Gowdy flied out to Strunk. No runs, no hits, one error.

Evers tossed out Baker. Maranville dropped McInnis' foul fly. McInnis fouled out to Deal. Strunk out, Evers to Schmidt. No runs, no hits, one error.

NINTH INNING

Barry threw out Maranville. Deal got a two-base hit. Deal stole third. James struck out. Deal scored on Mann's single. Mann went to second on a passed ball. Evers walked. Evers was out at second. Barry taking Cather's smash and tossing to Collins. One run, two hits, one error.

Barry walked. Schang struck out. Barry going to second. Walsh batted for Plank. Barry was given a stolen base by the scorer. Maranville took Murphy's grounder and touched second, forcing Walsh. He then threw out Murphy at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Boston—1 run, 7 hits and 1 error. Philadelphia—0 runs, 2 hits and 1 error.

DEADLY CARBONIC ACID GAS LURKS IN THE FARM SILOS

Many Deaths Have Occurred in Silos and State Board of Health Declares That Gas of Most Deadly Kind is Generated by Ensilage and May be Present in Any Poorly Ventilated Silo.

Owners of silos and those who work about the silos will take deep interest in the report made by the State Board of Health, which conducted an investigation at the state silo at Athens, where four men lost their lives in a twinkling when they stepped into a partly filled silo and were almost instantly killed by the deadly fumes.

An analysis of the gas by the state chemist revealed the presence of four times enough carbonic acid gas to produce instant death, and it is claimed that the same gas is liable to be found in any silo, and that many deaths in silos, attributed to heart failure or apoplexy, were due to the unknown presence of the carbonic acid gas.

In the report just filed by Dr. E. F. McCampbell, secretary of the State Board of Health, an exhaustive search of literature dealing with silos, failed to reveal any cases where death was said to be due to the gas.

The great German authority on poisons, Rambousek, says that 10 per cent of carbonic acid gas in air, breathed into the lungs will cause almost instant death. This gas is present in ordinary air to the extent of about three-hundredths of one per cent.

According to agricultural bulletins this gas is generated in silos by the death of the plant cells. It is held to be necessary to preserve the green ensilage and prevent from mould and decay. The remedy for such fatalities as occurred at Athens lies in keeping open the silo doors to establish thorough ventilation.

LUCKY FARMER IS PLEASED ONCE MORE

Fayette farmers again are shaking hands with themselves over the good fortune which has favored most of them in the harvesting of their corn crops and the sowing of wheat.

Most of the farmers have finished cutting their corn and sowing their wheat, and are now making active preparations for the approaching cold weather, which is looked for at any time.

The weather has been such that both corn cutting and wheat sowing have gone forward rapidly, and most of it has been completed, so that the rains are timely.

Apply the Emergency Test in Buying Your Car

To be fair to yourself you must make the car you buy prove its mettle under extraordinary conditions. Don't be satisfied with a 10-mile trip over the boulevards. Go for a 50-mile road test over every sort of a road, up hills and through sand and mud. Then and then only will you have a real line on the kind of a car you are putting your money into.

Our Fastest Selling Car

Tests of this sort have made the Chalmers "Light Six" the fastest selling car we ever built.

That is why we urge you to apply emergency tests—because we are confident if you make this car show you its quality under unusual conditions of service—it will be your choice.

And because we build the Chalmers "Light Six" to cope with any and every emergency of the road, because we insist that every part in this 1915 Chalmers "Light Six" be of the highest quality, we can truthfully say that at $1650 this car is a far greater value than any other car in its price class.

Has a Costly Car Look

Examine the refinements of cars selling around $2000 and then examine this 1915 Chalmers "Light Six." You'll find it fully comparable point for point.

If you could put all the cars in the same price class with the Chalmers 1915 "Light Six" in a group your eye would instantly seek out the Chalmers "Light Six" for the superior grace, the more distinctive beauty of its clear sweeping, true streamline body. And this is one reason why this car is selling so fast all over the country to men who formerly have driven only the highest priced cars. It satisfies men who really know car value.

No effort has been spared to make the 1915 Chalmers "Light Six" more convenient, more comfortable than any other "light six" on the market. And the only basis upon which we ask your consideration of the Chalmers "Light Six" is that it offers you more motor car value for the money than any other.

When you choose this Chalmers 1915 "Light Six" you establish your reputation as a shrewd judge of automobile values.

We are absolutely sincere when we say that we do not want to sell you a 1915 Chalmers "Light Six" until you have examined other "light sixes" and compared them, and until you have put the Chalmers "Light Six" up against the harshest road tests you can devise. For we know that no other "light six" can show the same real motor car value.

We know that once a man has examined the Chalmers "Light Six" minutely—has seen what it will actually do in service—he will be a Chalmers owner forever.

A few big features of the 1915 "Light Six": a different kind of automobile beauty; unusually handsome finish; Pullman-like comfort; a 48 H. P. long stroke non-stallable motor which "stays put"; graceful molded oval fenders of both strength and beauty; 4 1-2 inch tires—"Nobby" tread on rear wheels; unusually complete equipment including Chalmers-made one-man top of silk mohair, quick-acting storm curtains; five demountable rims, one-motion Chalmers-Entz electric starter, which makes the motor non-stallable, Klaxon horn, electric lights, etc. And perhaps the greatest feature of all, the unusually high quality in a car at such a price.

You Can't Tell Through a Window

So we ask you to come in and see this car at close range and let us take you for a long drive. We want you to sit at the wheel and get the feel of this great, powerful, smooth running car. A real automobile ride is awaiting your convenience. Arrange for it today.

Washington, Oct. 10.—The British government, backed by the governments of France and Russia, is interested in a movement that has been started to re-establish credit relations among all the nations of the world, including Germany, despite the existence of the war now devastating Europe. Sir George Paish, who arrived in New York on the Lusitania, has come on a mission to enlist the support of the American government and American banks for a plan which has been evolved to carry out the purpose of this movement. The plan provides for the establishment of an international credit bureau which shall be operated along the lines of a clearing house association. The scheme has as its basic idea a more economic use of the world's supply of gold.

Battles On The Diamond

In America, during the next week, the attention and the interest of the people, will in a great measure, be diverted from the horrors of war in Europe and concentrated on the baseball diamond.

Tens of thousands of enthusiastic "fans" will daily tax the capacity of the stands at Philadelphia and Boston to see the baseball teams of the respective cities, champions of the two major leagues, battle for the supremacy of the baseball world.

Throughout the country, in every city and hamlet and in almost every household where telephones are installed, millions of other enthusiastic "fans" will watch the score board, the ticker, the bulletin boards of the newspaper and by inquiry at every place where news is obtainable, keep in touch with the great battles as they progress.

For the time being the American "fans" and that includes easily ninety-nine per cent of the entire population, both young and old, will forget the awful conflict in Europe where men are wantonly butchering their fellow men on the field of battle and in reality or in fancy visit the beautiful parks at Philadelphia and Boston where the Athletics and the Braves meet to do battle in a peaceful contest.

Every baseball enthusiast in this broad land will be arrayed on one side or the other and every one of them will be "rooting" for his favorite.

But no matter how enthusiastic they become, no matter how intensely partisan they are, no matter how much they become interested, no matter how hard they "pull" from the time the umpire says play ball until the fatal words "you're out" in the last inning are spoken, every loser will, good naturedly, submit to being slapped on the back, pounded on the head and in many other ways made the receiver for the wild elation of his friends who picked the winner, anxious to tell him how it was done, emphasizing the narrative with prods and punches.

All over the land the learned judges and advocates will talk it over with the humblest laborer and the merchant princes will argue the whole game over again with the newsboy. The great game of baseball is absolutely destructive of caste and creed. The great family of baseball fans knows no factions and no internal dissensions. No political questions, no religious creeds and no social standing divides the baseball family.

Baseball is a grand old game. The American people should be thankful for its existence and thankful that the world's series can be played this fall under normal conditions.

No man should be ashamed to show his interest in baseball and few are. It is a good, clean sport, the grandest and most popular in all the world.

Watch the score boards if you can't go to the game, even if it necessitates a few hours off from business. Get in the game. It's all right.

Office Seekers Grow Abusive

The political campaign in Ohio has finally assumed that degree of intensity which the great majority of the voters hoped and believed would be avoided.

The strife between some of the principle actors in the campaign—some of the candidates for high places in the official family of the state—has become bitter in the extreme and they, as a consequence, are resorting to tactics and using language, in referring to rivals, in public discussions, far beneath the dignity of men fit to occupy the official positions they seek.

On the part of some of the candidates there seems to be a disposition to make downright misstatements of fact, so manifestly untrue as to force the conclusion that they are willfully made and known to be untrue or made with such a reckless disregard for the truth that almost as much censure should attach as if they were known to be false.

It is strange indeed that candidates for political preferment, seeking high and honorable offices do not realize that the day when palpable misrepresentations will bring even temporary benefit and when the use of intemperate and violent language, will serve as sound logic and respectful discussion, is passed.

Men who resort to personal abuse and call each other "liars" in public debate are considered, nowadays, sadly below the standard of mentality which would guarantee their fitness for the places they seek.

Worse even than the men who use abusive and violent language in public debate are the men who wilfully or recklessly misstate plain facts.

Such men fall below the required standard both mentally and morally.

There are an abundance of big questions to be discussed intelligently, honestly and decently before the voters of Ohio. There is positively no excuse for any candidate to wander off into the realms of fiction or falsehood or to resort to violent language in referring to his opponents.

Personal abuse of political opponents does not, in the least, serve to enlighten the voters on the issues of the day and consequently does nothing save harm the candidate for office who resorts to such tactics.

It is high time that some of the candidates now campaigning in Ohio begin to realize the futility of old time methods and get down to a real intelligent discussion of issues dropping out of their public addresses all false statements and personal abuse.

Poetry For Today

GLORIA REDIVIVA.

God's mercy on the tumults of this day,

May He who holds secure within His hands

The nations of the world stretch forth and stay

This bloody warfare of our Fatherlands.

Quench thou the flame that feeds upon the lust

Which love of power and brutal conquest brings

Through war and bloodshed—humble in the dust

The hearts of rulers, Emperors and Kings

That they may learn in this new day and hour

No strength of arms and navies ever can

Prove love of country—but the greatest power

Of nations is the brotherhood of man.

So usher in the dawn, thou King of kings,

Of that great day when wars shall cease and when

The battle cry of every nation rings

With song of peace on earth, good will to men.

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Freak of Lightning.

Urbana, O., Oct. 10.—Ball lightning descended upon Mingo, this county, and exploded in the street in front of J. R. McElwain's store. The concussion broke all the windows and show cases in the store and glass merchandise. McElwain, standing in the midst of the havoc, was unhurt. L. R. Marshall, across the street, was temporarily paralyzed by the flash.

Bryan's Second Visit.

Columbus, Oct. 10.—Chairman William L. Finley of the Democratic state executive committee announced the Bryan itinerary for next Wednesday. He will speak at Urbana at 3 p. m.; Piqua, 4 p. m.; Greenville, 5 p. m.; Eaton, 6:30 p. m.; Hamilton, 8 p. m., and close the day with a late night meeting at Dayton.

Boy Bitten by Rattlesnake.

Bellefontaine, O., Oct. 10.—The five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith of Mad River township was bitten by a rattlesnake while playing near the house. The fangs of the snake penetrated the child's instep and the leg is swollen nearly to the hip.

Gored by Angry Bull.

Marysville, O., Oct. 10.—H. P. Woods was gored by an angry bull here and his wife was knocked down by the animal when she tried to rescue him. Mrs. Woods is in a serious condition from the nervous shock.

GERMANS KILL WOUNDED MEN

New York, Oct. 10.—One of the returning officers on board the Lusitania, Captain Le Vert Coleman, is quoted as saying that he was with the right wing of the allied armies at the battle of the Marne and that there were 5,000,000 men engaged in the battle. Captain Coleman was further quoted as saying that his observations and information obtained from soldiers of the allied armies led to the conclusion that the so called German atrocities were the result of orders from high German military authorities and not the work of individuals. "Following the retreat of the army of General Von Kluck the Uhlans returned to the field," Captain Coleman is quoted as saying. "They turned their machine guns upon the wounded lying everywhere, killing them almost to a man. They trod upon other wounded men, who, if they groaned, were shot without pity."

BRIDGES SWEEP TWO TO DEATH

Paterson, N. J., Oct. 10.—In a fight between railroad detectives and a party of five unidentified men atop a fast freight, traveling forty miles an hour, two of the latter were swept to death against overhead bridges near here. The others escaped.

The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western fast freight from Hoboken to Pennsylvania cities carrying a rich collection of valuable silks, has been robbed repeatedly of late, and detectives were recently placed aboard it each night. While searching the train the detectives found the five men hidden in cars. The fight ensued.

MONSTER FREIGHT ENGINES
MEET HEAD-ON IN THIS CITY

An ugly head-on collision between two monster freight engines, occurred on the D. T. & I. switch just below the Paint street crossing about 1:15 o'clock Saturday afternoon, with the result that the pilots of both engines were crushed like egg-shells, and the big engines otherwise damaged.

The accident occurred about 60 feet south of the switch-intersection near Paint street, while the yard engine was standing still, and while the engine of local freight No. 47 was running at about 25 miles per hour.

Engineer Kneely was in charge of the yard engine, and had been switching. Engineer Vincent of No. 47, was endeavoring to reach the water tank before the water in the engine gave out. He had reached Jeffersonville on the south-bound trip, and found that the water supply was exhausted. He had very little in his engine, and decided to make a run for it to this city.

He was going at very rapid speed and ran into the open switch, striking the other engine before he could retard the motion of the big engine. The fireman on No. 47 jumped and sprained an ankle. Engines No. 71 and 89 were the ones damaged.

It required some little time to remove the locked engines.

FANS DELIGHTED WITH REPORT OF
WORLD'S SERIES

Local baseball enthusiasts were delighted, Friday evening, with the full report of the first game of the world's series, carried in The Herald.

And every day during the series, The Herald will give a complete report of the game, from beginning to end—just what all baseball enthusiasts desire to keep informed on each clash between the giants of the diamond.

FINE ENTERTAINMENT AT MEMORIAL HALL

The joint meeting of John M. Bell Post and Corps was probably the most enjoyable one ever held by these organizations. In spite of the down-pour the attendance was good, many comrades coming from a distance to attend the meeting.

Post Commander McCrea called the meeting to order, stating its object and introducing Mrs. Carpenter who presented a specially prepared program under her direction. The enthusiasm with which the numbers were received was very gratifying to all who took part in the program. The congratulations and thanks of the comrades knew no bounds, and it was the general opinion that such meetings should be held oftener.

A delicious bean supper was served by Mrs. Will Davenport and her splendid committee. After this "the boys" were loth to leave and asked that the program be repeated. This was not deemed practicable, but an impromptu camp-fire was held, which consisted of readings and the old-time patriotic songs.

The platform decorations of flags, bunting and flowers, added much to the evening's enjoyment. This was the work of Mrs. Hoppes and Mrs. Carpenter.

Those assisting Mrs. Davenport as hostesses were Mesdames Ford, Ellis, Leland, Thompson, Boswell, Kennedy, Blackmore, Jenkins, Ella Taylor, Will Hetteshelmer and Miss Ruth Smithers.

Those assisting on the splendid program were: Misses Kellough, Reid, Willis, Klever, Hicks, Spengler, Worthington, Stafford and Mrs. Gregg. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Vannorsdall, and Mr. and Mrs. Spengler of Jeffersonville; Mr. and Mrs. Hicks, of Mt. Sterling; Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Parrett, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. R. Pensyl, Messrs. Duff, Cockerill and Durlinger.

Before leaving the hall a vote of thanks was extended to the ladies for the evening's pleasure.

HOBSON COMING
DURING MONTH

Congressman Richard Pearson Hobson, hero of the Spanish-American war, warm temperance advocate, and the man who sees the "menace of the East", is coming to Washington to address the citizens, and no admittance fee is to be charged.

The Executive committee in charge of the Prohibition work in this county, has succeeded in obtaining Mr. Hobson for a temperance speech, and he will be here the last week in this month, unless something unforeseen arises to compel him to cancel his engagement.

Hon. Richard Pearson Hobson.

Mr. Hobson will devote three days to the campaign in Ohio, speaking for the prohibition amendment, and when the local committee learned that he would be available, they booked him immediately, but the exact date has not yet been announced.

Mr. Hobson appeared in this city some six years ago, and lectured on the "Signs of the Times". This lecture was given in Grace church.

ARRESTED FOR SELLING HORSE

John McKane was arrested and thrown in jail Saturday morning on a charge of selling a horse upon which Lizzie and T. W. Forsha claim a mortgage of $175.

The man told conflicting stories about the horse, claiming that it died while he was making a trip into Ross county, and that he sold it to the fertilizer plant in that city. He also claimed that he had buried the horse.

The charge against him is that he has sold the horse, and as the penalty is a severe one, the man, if guilty, will find the selling of mortgaged property very expensive business.

PHONE COMPANIES
MUST MOVE POLES

The County Commissioners have received notice from the State Highway Department to serve legal notice on the Ohio State Telephone Company and other companies, to move their telephone poles back to the proper distance from the center of the roads under improvement.

The highways under improvement where the telephone poles will be ordered back to the line, are: Leesburg pike and the Bloomingburg and Midway pike, and later the Jeffersonville pike north of this city, will come in for a similar change.

The fact that the poles are ordered back will be of general importance, and in accord with what all persons using the roads would have, as the dangers from poles set close to the roadbed are many, and a runaway horse usually crashes into a telephone pole and causes an ugly mishap.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED

At a recent meeting of the local W. C. T. U. the following officers were elected for the coming year:

EDWARDS SISTERS
QUARTET IS COMING

The widely known and ever popular Edwards Sisters' quartet, of Oak Hill, has been engaged by the Fayette County State-Wide Prohibition organization to tour Fayette county Saturday, October 24th.

On the same day Mr. Probst, of Cincinnati, a well known anti-saloon league worker, will speak at various points throughout the county, and end up the day's work with a big meeting in this city on the evening of October 24th.

Several automobile loads will accompany the quartet and speakers, and the popularity of the singers and speakers is guarantee sufficient for a large crowd at each point where stops are made. The itinerary of the trip will be announced later.

In Social Circles

The twentieth anniversary of Royal Chapter No. 29, Order of Eastern Star, was brilliantly celebrated at the Masonic Temple Friday evening, with a reception in honor of the Grand Lodge officers of Ohio, Mrs. Bessie Boice, worthy grand matron, of Mt. Sterling; Mrs. Cora Griswold, associate grand matron, of Geneva; Mr. Thos. H. Bell, associate grand patron, Cincinnati, and Mrs. Eva J. Penn, past worthy grand matron, of this city.

It has been the custom of Royal Chapter every five years to entertain with a "home coming", for the members of all the chapters which it has been influential in initiating, and invitations had been issued to all of these chapters.

Despite the inclement evening over three hundred responded to the invitations, the chapters of Leesburg, New Holland, Mt. Sterling, Bainbridge, New Vienna, Sabina, Jeffersonville and Bloomingburg being well represented.

The reception was held in the splendid big lodge room, blazing with light and cheer.

The worthy matron of Royal Chapter, Mrs. Margaret Colwell, and the worthy patron, Mr. E. L. Bush, were at the head of the receiving line, introducing the Grand officers. Mrs. Bell was also in the line.

Following the reception the Floral Addenda was perfectly put on in compliment to the visitors.

The remainder of the evening was spent in the great banquet hall, wonderfully beautiful in decorations of wild flowers, showing most graceful arrangement. There was a riot of autumn colors, punctuated with the bright gold of our national flower and the royal purple of the gentian. A buffet luncheon was served from a long table, effectively decorated in golden rod and greenery.

Throughout the evening, Horstman and Kneisley played an exquisite program of piano and violin music.

After the luncheon, which was excellently managed by the men of the chapter, Mr. H. C. Anthony, chairman, there came a delightful closing hour of toasts.

Worthy Patron Bush proved his ability as toastmaster and spontaneous responses, tributes of beauty and heartsome feeling to the order, were made by the Grand officers and visitors.

"Bright hued autumn flowers and the beauty of a perfect October afternoon added an especial charm to the handsomely appointed reception given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. A. C. Messenger at her home on South Detroit street. The guests were invited for the hours between two-thirty and five and during that time about one hundred women called. In the receiving line with the hostess were three guests from out of the city, Mrs. J. W. Chandler and Miss Chandler of Dayton, and Mrs. Austin F. Hopkins of Washington C. H.

The occasion was the twenty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of Dr. and Mrs. Messenger and the announcement of the fact was made when the guests were presented with the favors which were silver leaves tied with white ribbons and bearing the dates 1889 and 1914.

At six o'clock Dr. and Mrs. Messenger entertained about twenty-five friends at dinner in celebration of their anniversary.—Xenia Republican.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin F. Hopkins, of Washington, were among the dinner guests.

The spacious home of Mrs. Sharp Davies was the scene of a thoroughly pleasurable Kensington Friday afternoon, when Mrs. Davies extended her hospitality to the entire local membership of the W. C. T. U.

Nearly a hundred women were present and, while the afternoon was largely social, there was also infused into it the interest in temperance work which is paramount with these women. Mrs. Davies and Mrs. Chas. Stafford, president of the Washington C. H. W. C. T. U., made informal little talks in regard to present plans in the temperance campaign.

Miss Annette Stafford favored the guests with delightful piano numbers. Fall flowers adorned the rooms and dainty refreshments were served.

Assisting Mrs. Davies in the hospitalities were Mrs. J. M. Baker and daughter, Miss Helen, Miss Emma Jewell, of Montezuma, Ia., was an out of town guest.

A marriage of much interest in this city, as well as in the bride's home town of Jeffersonville, took place at half past four o'clock Saturday afternoon, when Miss Eva M. Taggart plighted her troth to Mr. Justin L. Owens, of Chicago.

The bride belongs to one of the prominent families of Jeffersonville, being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Taggart, and an attractive girl, with friends galore.

Particularly becoming to her blonde type were her bridal robes of white and she carried a bouquet of bride's roses.

Prof. W. W. Davies, of the Ohio Wesleyan university, of which college the bride is a graduate, came down from Delaware to perform the ceremony.

It was a simple home wedding, to which a profusion of flowers lent fragrance and beauty. Only the immediate relatives were in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Owens left for a wedding trip, after which they expect to make their home in Chicago. Mr. Owens holding the position of traveling salesman with the Walter Baker Co.

A number of women found the Kensington of the Ladies of the Circle, G. A. R., a charming affair of Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. S. Daugherty, Mesdames J. F. Dennis, R. C. Hunt and Miss Marie Hagler assisting hostesses.

A Victrola concert was enjoyed with the social features of the afternoon.

Autumn flowers decked the rooms and tempting refreshments were served.

Mrs. Green, of Oklahoma City, and Mrs. Lilly Quinn, of Hillsboro, were among the guests.

The Ladies' Elmwood Aid Society enjoyed the Kensington with the president, Mrs. Ruda McLean.

During the social hour, Mrs. McLean and Mrs. John Merriweather, assisting hostess, served appetizing refreshments.

A large number answered to roll call and adjourned to meet with Mrs. Margaret Reynolds, November 12th.

Mrs. Martin Cox gave a stag dinner Friday night in honor of her husband's 27th birthday.

The table was beautifully decorated with white chrysanthemums and greenery, and an elaborate four-course dinner served.

Seated with Mr. Cox were Messrs. Sam Maddox, Chas. Robinson, Eben Adams and Kent Hopkins.

The guests presented Mr. Cox with a handsome umbrella as a birthday souvenir.

Mr. Will Jefferson, Jr., came home from Milwaukee, Wis., to act as best man at the Pinkerton-Musey wedding in Cincinnati Saturday.

HALF THE UNION TO HONOR MEMORY OF COLUMBUS OCT. 12

Debt We Owe to Discoverer
More Appreciated as Time Goes On.

Date Famous In History
Now a Legal Holiday In Twenty-four States.

WITH half the world at war and the United States safely out of it, we ought to feel our debt of gratitude to Christopher Columbus increased a hundred-fold when on Oct. 12 will be celebrated the four hundred and twenty-second anniversary of his discovery of America. Columbus day, as Oct. 12 is called, is a legal holiday in these twenty-four states: Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, Montana, New York, New Jersey, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Texas, Vermont and Washington. Among other countries which observe the day are Brazil, Colombia, Costa Rica, Panama and Peru.

First to Prove Old Theory.

It is true that the idea that the earth is round, over which Columbus is said to have brooded years in secret, was not first his. It was taught by Ferdinand casts doubt on this statement.

Even the date of the birth of Columbus has not been fixed with absolute accuracy. Although in his diary he writes freely of the forty years he followed the sea, the seven years he impudently the throne of Spain and the early period of his home leaving, yet so does this data conflict with known dates that one must conclude he either made wilful errors or was very careless. No one any longer believes that he was born in 1436. But whether the year of his birth was 1446, 1447 or 1451 is still disputed.

The authority for this last date, now accepted by many as correct, is based upon a note for 48 lire and 13 centesimos that Columbus and his father gave in payment for a cask of wine. On this note it is set forth that Columbus was of age when he made it. The note was executed in favor of a Genoese merchant named Bellesio and was but recently found in the archives of the Italian city.

Columbus is thought to have attended the University of Pavia and then to have gone to sea under a distant relative.

About 1470 he escaped from the wreck of his ship in a naval battle and went ashore at Lisbon. There he made maps and charts. He married the daughter of the governor of Porto Santo, an island near Madeira. From the papers of his wife's father he conceiv-dence." It was painted early in the sixteenth century by the direction of a Spanish nobleman, who at that time was collecting a gallery portraying famous Spaniards.

The accepted likeness of the admiral is that of a strong, clean shaven face from which deep, expressive eyes look out under a broad brow. The heavy lines from the nose to the corners of the mouth are also characteristic of the popular portraits. But this is no picture of the man who discovered America.

Columbus had red hair. Also, as was the almost universal custom of the sailors of that period, he wore a beard. On this point is the evidence of Las Casas, his shipmate and historian. He states that "The admiral was a man of sturdy stature, rather above the average height, of a very ruddy complexion, with freckles and red hair when he was young. The latter soon turned white, which was also the color of his beard."

Book Was His Inspiration.

Unquestionably Columbus was a deep student of human nature, and while it may be that he was not as learned in books as he professed, there can be no doubt that he was a thorough, practical navigator. What remains of his library consists of only three books. The margins of these are scribbled with annotations, clear evidences that they were much read. Their well thumbed pages show that time after time Columbus must have pored over their contents.

One of these volumes, "The Travels of Marco Polo," spurred the great sailor to his destiny. It was this story of marvelous adventure by land and sea rather than the apocryphal conver-

COLUMBUS AND INDIAN MAIDEN—MONUMENT AT COLON, PANAMA.

Aristotle three centuries before Christ and had been repeated by many philosophers and scientists whose works it is known Columbus studied.

But Columbus' was the first working idea of its meaning and the ultimate effective one.

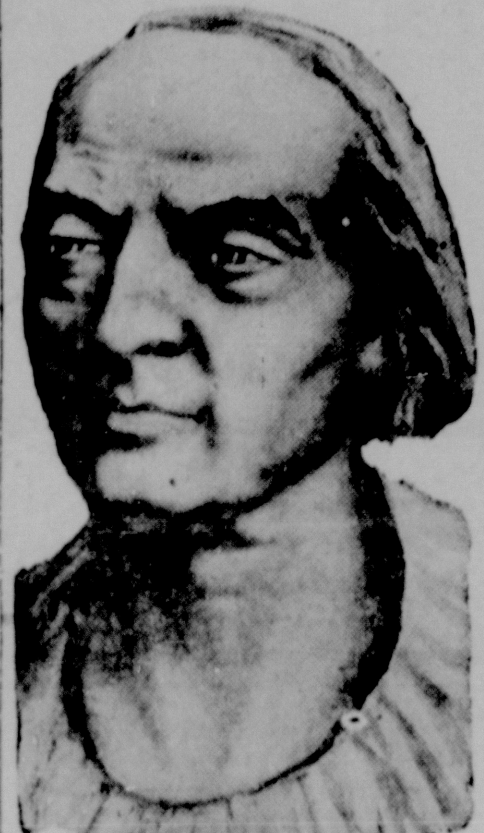

It is true also that Columbus did not wholly prove his theory, for he did not sail around the earth. He thought that he had proved it, because he thought, in common with his time, that America was India. He mistook the Antilles for Malaysia and believed that by sailing through them he must come to the mainland of the east.

It is true, therefore, that he did not know he was discoverer of the new world—that is, the new world as we understand it. His epitaph declares that he gave a new world to Castile and to Leon, but there was no suspicion when that eulogy was written that he had given them an unknown world.

The new world of Columbus' epitaph was not a new continent, but an extended world of trade and influence with Zippang and the Great Khan. Farthest India was none the less new to Leon and Castile, though they were quite aware of its being. It remained for John Cabot to make the discovery that Columbus had found a new continent and for Ferdinand Magellan to demonstrate that he had revealed a new hemisphere and thus an actual as well as virtual new world.

Conflicting Statements.

A mass of conflicting testimony betrays the history of Columbus' life. A dozen cities claim to have been his birthplace. Although that honor is now commonly accorded to Genoa, Columbus has been given four distinct nationalities, one being Jewish. He had himself stated in several places in his diary that he was a Genoese, and thus he was called by his intimates. But, curiously enough, his own son ed the project of opening a route to India. After waiting on the Spanish court for seven years, during which time he served against the Moors, he obtained aid from the king and queen through Juan Perez de Marchena, superior of the convent of La Rabida.

Columbus' Memorable Voyage.

Columbus sailed from Palos Aug. 3, 1492. His flagship, the Santa Maria, was ninety foot keel and less than 100 tons burden, with four masts, two square and two lateen rigged. It was decked over and carried guns. The Pinta and the Nina were smaller and undecked. Martin Alonso Pinzon and Francisco Martin Pinzon commanded one, Vincente Yanez Pinzon the other.

The expedition numbered 120 souls and carried provisions for a year. The whole cost of the discovery of America was 1,282,500 maravedis, or about $50,000.

On Friday, Oct. 12, 1492, seventy-one days out from Palos, Rodrigo Triana sighted land. By Columbus' reckoning and description it is now thought to be Watling Island, one of the Bahama group. Columbus called it San Salvador (Holy Saviour). He discovered also Conception, Exuma, Isla Larga, Haiti and Cuba, which last he took at first for Zipango (Japan) and later for the mainland of India. He thought Haiti was Solomon's Ophir. He left thirty-nine men there in a fort built from the timbers of the Santa Maria, which was wrecked.

On March 15, 1493, he returned to Palos. He was created don and admiral of Spain and accorded signal honors from the crown.

He made three more voyages, but the jealousy of the nobility toward him, as a foreigner, and the apathy of the court to his discovery, because it lacked the wealth anticipated, resulted in a series of misfortunes, which ended only with his life. Columbus died at Valladolid May 20, 1506, in want.

Portraits From Hearsay.

In view of all the conflict of evidence regarding his birthplace, citizenship and creed, it is small wonder that we have a hazy and possibly false idea of the personality of Columbus.

The portraits which are so numerous today can nearly all be traced back to an engraving called the Paulus Jovius cut, made from a painting that has been lost. And another factor of inaccuracy, the lost painting was not an original work, but was executed upon what the lawyers term "hearsay evi-sation with the mythical pilot that incited the world famous voyage. Envious minds sought to take from him much of his glory, and they fabricated the story of the pilot.

The pilot was supposed to have been a sailor who, having made a long journey to the westward, one day passed an island in what was then the unknown sea. He is supposed to have imparted this information to Columbus and thus revealed to him the secret of the existence of a new world.

Columbus was a ready talker and may have spun some highly colored yarns. He seems to have anticipated that his record as a sailor would some time be brought into question.

But, as one writer says, all the more honor is due to Columbus because he rose from the lowest ranks to become the admiral of the oceans. All the more honor is his award if despite lack of early education and opportunity he made himself the most daring navigator the world has known.

Honored After Centuries.

That the people of both North and South America hold the discoverer in high esteem is attested by the many monuments erected to signalize his deed. But it is only in recent years that he has been so honored.

The first monument to Columbus erected in the United States stands in Baltimore. A French officer, Charles Francis Adrien le Palmer, Chevalier d'Amour, who came to America with Lafayette, built a shaft on his own estate in 1792, the year of the tricentennial of the discovery. It is a graceful shaft of English brick over forty-four feet high.

Within the last few years there has been an effort to recognize the 12th of October as a legal holiday in all states. "Columbus day," those behind the movement maintain, should be an anniversary included in the list of American celebrations observed by the whole country.

ANTWERP FALLEN

No Let Up In German Attack on
City of Antwerp.

BELGIAN BATTERIES SILENCED

Shells Falling Upon the Doomed City at the Rate of Twenty a Minute, the Roar of Guns Being Heard a Score of Miles Away—Airships Playing an Important Part in the Bombardment of the Town.

BULLETIN.

London, Oct. 10.—It is reported here that Antwerp has fallen after forty-eight hours' bombardment. King Albert is safe. When he left Antwerp he led out part of his army, and it is believed he intends to keep on harassing the German field armies.

London, Oct. 10.—Shells are falling upon stricken Antwerp at the rate of twenty a minute, according to latest advices received here, and the Germans have completely occupied the southeastern section of Antwerp's third fortified line. From Rosendaal, a score of miles directly north of Antwerp, word reached here that all night long the roar of guns could be heard. The sky to the south was red from the flames of the burning city.

The first fire of the main attack of the Germans on Antwerp fell short or went wide in a way that caused derisive yells from the defenders. With the entrance of the first taube aeroplane and Zeppelins into the engagement the location of the Belgian batteries was accurately found and the Germans then got the range with deadly precision.

The only word of encouragement that comes from the surrounding country as to conditions in the city is that "Antwerp is still holding out." And there is a prayer being offered in many an English home that Antwerp will be able to hold out until help from the allies can be poured in from the north and northwest.

"An officer whom I met," says a dispatch received here from Ghent, "states that the bombardment of the Antwerp cathedral had begun at the hour he left that city, which was 10 o'clock Thursday morning. Fire had broken out in many places. The Germans were using their sixteen-inch howitzers with terrible effect on the inner ring of forts, but guns of smaller caliber were being used for the destruction of the city itself."

Although last reports of the exact whereabouts of King Albert say the king had arrived at Selszaete, on the Dutch frontier, almost the whole of the Belgian field army is being kept in Antwerp to try to hold the city. It is fighting back of fortifications among the strongest in the world, and with these fortresses the city also has a natural water defense, marshes and artificial water defenses which, in the event of defeat, will be the last proof needed that modern military defense at its best is sadly behind the progress made in military offensive equipment.

U. S. SHIPS AS SCOUTS

Washington, Oct. 10.—The contemplated trip of the interned German liner Kronprinzessin Cecille from Bar Harbor, Me., to winter quarters in Boston harbor may be made under a convoy of United States naval vessels. The warships would go as scouts, however, merely to warn the captain of the liner should British or other cruisers put in an appearance while the Cecille was outside the three-mile limit, permitting her to hasten toward shore and avoid capture.

SCHEME HELD IMPRACTICABLE

Washington, Oct. 10.—Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo made public a letter to Representative Henry of Texas in which he denounced as impracticable the plans of the Texas congressman for the financing of the cotton crop by the government. Representative Henry had made two suggestions to the treasury department. The first was that the government deposit several hundred million dollars in the banks in the south, at the same time shifting to southern banks the $74,000,000 now deposited in various sections of the country. A second suggestion was that the government sell $200,000,000 Panama canal bonds and utilize cotton as a security for government loans, and in addition issue $200,000,000 of United States notes to be loaned on cotton.

GERMANS SEIZE BELGIAN STORES

Washington, Oct. 10.—The Belgian minister filed with the state department a protest from his government against the threatened famine in Brussels, claimed to be due to the ravages caused by the German army. The Germans are said to have monopolized all the foodstuffs found in Brussels and its environs.

FARMER IS ABDUCTED

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 10.—Two robbers kidnaped Charles Ashworth, a wealthy Polk county farmer, within a few steps of the main street of Valley Junction, a suburb of Des Moines. It is believed they are holding him for ransom. The bandits stopped Ashworth and Ed Wagner, a business man, in an alley near Wagner's place of business, and demanded $10,000 from Wagner and $1,000 from Ashworth. Wagner broke away after he had been robbed of his jewelry and money, but the bandits forced Ashworth to enter a waiting automobile and drove off.

STEADY PROGRESS MADE BY ALLIES

Germans Said to Be Losing Grip on French Territory.

MUST REFORM LINE IN BELGIUM

General Joffre's Tactics Reported to Be Bearing Fruit East and West. Allies Now North of Lille After Having Retaken Arras—Situation at East End of the Battle Line Favors the French.

Paris, Oct. 10.—Even the gravity of the situation at Antwerp does not lessen the satisfaction felt over the steady progress of the allies in France. The opinion again takes strength that the Germans are losing their grip on French territory and must within a few days reform their lines on Belgian soil.

East and west, General Joffre's tactics are said to be bearing fruit. Defeating every attempt of the Germans to avert his turning movement and to get between his most northerly force and the coast cities, he is steadily and definitely winning ground along the Belgian border. The allies may not be able to force a way past Von Kluck and enter Belgium in such force as to compel the Germans to raise the siege of Antwerp, but General Joffre is making such progress that every indication points to his ability to make the Germans rally all their strength to defend Belgium.

The allies have advanced to the north of Lille. They have retaken Arras. Their cavalry is reported to be fighting the German horse to a standstill in every counter attack. Meanwhile, there is excellent reason for asserting that new armies are preparing to strike at the Germans in Belgium from the coast cities.

At the east of the battle line the situation is even more pleasing to the French. It seems certain now that the Germans are retreating from their positions along the Meuse, where the crown prince is supposed to be in command. They have taken ground at Hattomchotel, and there is unofficial information that their retirement continues. There can be no doubt that such withdrawal can not be continued without weakening the whole German line in northern France, since further surrender of position will surely endanger the Grand Duke of Wurtemberg at the ridge of the Argonne.

The new battle line, which compels the greater part of the German host to turn from the south to the west, runs now from southwestern Belgium to the region of Noyon, with Lille, La Basse, Lens, Brav-Sur-Somme, Chaulnes and Roye as its principal points of activity. The Germans have not ceased their efforts to break through near Roye, but they are being repulsed with greater decisiveness than formerly.

There is credible news that the allies have won a great battle eight miles north of Lille and that the Germans are retreating hurriedly into Belgian territory. General Joffre is massing fresh troops and hurling them night and day at weakening sections of the German line.

AUSTRIAN FORTRESS REDUCED

Przemysl Said to Be In Hands of the Russians.

London, Oct. 10.—Dispatches from Rome and Petrograd says reports are in circulation that Przemysl, the Austrian fortress in Galicia, which has been besieged by the Russians for some time, has fallen. The Rome dispatches say the outer forts have been silenced and a portion of the city is burning. The garrison, which has been weakened by cholera and is running short of ammunition, has made no sorties for some time.

Should the report of the fall of Przemysl prove to be true, it will release the large Russian force which has been besieging that place and the troops can join the army which is advancing on Cracow.

The advance of the Russians on Cracow continues slowly but steadily. In eastern Prussia the Germans, who were driven back during the last three days' fighting, are said to be concentrating their forces in three defensive positions to the west and northwest of Suwalki.

The Germans have received reinforcements from Koenigsberg and are disputing every inch of ground on the frontier. A big battle is expected in a day or two. Meanwhile, a new Russian army has arrived at the frontier, near Posen, while another is marching toward Thorn.

The Austrian general staff claims that their troops repulsed the Russians on the road to Przemysl and that Rzeszow has been captured and guns taken.

Speaking of Wendell Phillips' remarkable gifts as an orator, Horace Greeley paid him the highest compliment when he said that there wasn't a boy who heard Phillips speak but thought he could speak as well—he spoke so naturally. Of the great actor Garrick it is related that he did not please country people or others unused to the stage because he was so natural that he did not seem to be acting at all.

Animal Scent.

A fox can scent a man half a mile away if the wind be blowing in the animal's direction. A mouse can smell cheese fifty feet away. A deer may be sound asleep, and yet he will catch the scent of a person passing 200 feet off. The rabbit depends more upon his ears than his nose.

DALE

Have you a "little furnace" in your stove?

YES!—if it's an Estate Hot Storm. Otherwise—no! For the wonderful little furnace is an exclusive and patented feature of the Estate Hot Storm's construction.

While the stove is working overtime, radiating its heat upward, and downward, and every which way, the little furnace inside is shooting an enormous volume of pure hot air into the room.

Hardly seems possible for a stove to do so much work as the

does—and to do it so nicely, without any smoke or gas getting into the room, without any puffing or exploding, without requiring any attention whatever except to put in some coal every day or two.

Make up your mind to "Own an Estate" this season, and make it an Estate Hot Storm—"the stove with a little furnace in it." See it here at our store.

NO REPRISALS OR EXECUTIONS

Washington, Oct. 10.—Assurances to the people of Vera Cruz that they need fear no executions or reprisals when the Constitutional forces receive that city from the hands of the American authorities, are contained in a proclamation issued by General Aguilar, military governor designate of Vera Cruz. This announcement was received at the Constitutional agency here. Adherents of the Huerta regime have been spreading broadcast in Vera Cruz reports that when the Constitutionalists came in they would inaugurate their rule by a program of wholesale reprisals and executions.

Secretary Garrison said that no decision had been reached as to the date for the withdrawal of the American forces from Vera Cruz.

The Sheet Anchor.

"That was my sheet anchor"—i. e., my best hope, my last refuge—the sheet anchor of a ship, which in stress of weather is the sailors' chief dependence. The word sheet is a corruption of the word shote (thrown out), meaning the anchor "thrown out" in foul weather. The Greeks and Romans said, "My sacred anchor," referring to the sheet anchor, which was always dedicated to some god.
